

There is no need for further deregulation of the broadcast industry. We are first and foremost a democracy and that must be maintained at all costs. The basis of an effective democracy is an informed public. Economics should be a very minor consideration on this important issue. Thank you.